The Faculty Development Committee met in Spring 2015 to discuss the Mayme and Tom Scott Professorship in Teaching Excellence. The procedure for call for nominations, receipt of portfolios, and scoring of portfolios was discussed. The committee will hold scoring sessions for the Scott Professorship from April 16 – 25, and the projected announcement date is May 1.

The committee also discussed faculty development sessions during Fall 2015 University Week, as well as other professional development opportunities to be considered. The Pecha Kucha presentations will again be presented by faculty and staff as the general session for University Week.
