UC Decision:	Rejected
Notes:	The proposal was rejected because specific CRNs for the same course cannot be set to have different requirements. If the course has different requirements, it should be different courses. The council also did not recognize the academic rigor that would place the course at a 4000-level. The course is also not being taught by a Counseling faculty but being utilized by Residential Life as a training course for Resident Assistant (RA) and Prep Staff. The council recommends that an alternative to a 4000-level course be used for RA and Prep Staff training.
