CIP Program Description: Gerontology

Completion Rates and Job Placement Date: The Graduate DLGC (Distance Learning Gerontology Certificate) program has been in existence since 1980. During that time, 1-2 students per year enrolled in the program. Nine student credit hours of enrollment is considered the 'normal' load to complete the program in 10 months or 2 academic semesters. Students generally take 6 credit hours as many are non-traditional college age students working full-time jobs and pursuing this Certificate for retraining purposes. Five students completed this Certificate within the last 5 years. All are currently employed in elder settings. No students completed the DLGC from 2012-2013.

Program Cost: (Based on 2012-2013 Costs, Louisiana Resident Student, Completing Program in 10 months)
