| DISCUSSION TOPICS | |
| The committee nominated and elected Arturo Rodriguez as Chair of the Committee, since Leigh Hersey has assumed the role of FAR. Athletics and Compliance: (Jackson, Hartwell)--Angel Darden indicated that the transition to the new ARMS system is ongoing. They are trying to determine whether the system will work seamlessly with Banner to facilitate operations. The department is working on training coaches and student athletes so that end of semester issues related to billing for housing can be minimized. FAR/Academic Integrity and Compliance Subcommittee: (Wright) -- No report. Equity and Student-Athlete Well-being: (L. Hersey) -- Jan Daniels has indicated interest in providing suicide awareness training for student athletes during the summer. Academic Integrity and Compliance: The development and implementation of APR goals was suspended during the COVID pandemic. For the 2023-2024 academic year, these goals will need to be reestablished. Academics: (Carmen Wright, Anthony Malta, Patti Pate) Patti Pate -- Academic Advising has started and going smoothly. The drop date is March 27. Registration for special groups is March 28. Student athletes have requested to be able to register for the 2nd session of 8-week courses. Some athletes get the extra fee to register in these courses covered through their athletic scholarship. Guidelines for the faculty award need to be established. A QR code leading student athletes to an electronic survey questionnaire will ease the process of collecting nominations. The staff award is more problematic as student athletes are more exposed to certain staff members than others, therefore, the same five or six staff members keep being nominated and elected. New Business: Next meeting has been scheduled for April 4. Baseball is playing at home on March 8. Women's Golf had a great showing by winning the GCU Invitational in record-setting performance. Indoor track and field won several categories in the SBC Championships. Unlu was selected to NCAA Indoor Track & Field Championships. Softball playing at home on weekend of March 11. The much anticipated Night of Champions event will take place on March 31. | |
