

LA PHARMACIE EN LOUISIANE

COLLEGE OF PHARMACY ALUMNI NEWS

PHARMILY SPOTLIGHT:

Julie Breithaupt, PharmD, MBA, RPh

Hometown: Alexandria, LA

Education: I received my BS in Pharmacy from ULM (NLU) in 1994, an MBA from ULM in 2000, and my PharmD from University of Florida in 2009.

Work History: My pharmacy journey began the summer after I graduated high school. A friend invited me to volunteer as a candy-striper at Cabrini Hospital in Alexandria for the summer. I was given permission to work in the pharmacy (which I lovingly termed "the Dungeon" because it was located in the basement of the hospital). It only took a few short days to observe the incredible work of Mrs. Francis and crew to realize that the course of my life was about to change. I readily gave back my full-ride scholarship monies to change my major to Pre-Pharmacy. During school, I returned home on the weekends to work in the pharmacy at Rapides Regional Medical Center (RRMC), where I got experience and earned hours towards licensure.

After graduating, I worked at Eckerd Drugs and K&B a short time. I married and moved back to Monroe; this provided the opportunity to return to school and pursue my M.B.A. degree (ULM). During this time, my beautiful daughter, Helen Casey Wilkinson, was born. I rejoined Eckerd Drugs and worked PRN while going to school. However, pursuing success in my professional and academic life did have a cost. After graduating, my daughter and I returned to Alexandria and divorce soon followed. At this crossroad of my life, an unusual career path presented itself. I joined the U.S. Public Health Service (USPHS, O-3, Lieutenant) and was stationed at the Federal Bureau of Prisons in Oakdale, LA, where I ran the pharmacy that serviced the Federal Detention Center and the Federal Prison Camp (O-5 Billet). This job came with incredible training at the Federal Law Enforcement Training Center (FLETC) in Glynco, GA. The USPHS also gave me opportunities to travel and give poster and live (CE) presentations to my pharmacist colleagues and top ranked officers. I am proud to have served my country.

After my service ended (honorably discharged), I accepted the Director of Pharmacy position at Byrd Regional Hospital in Leesville, where I was intimately involved with many QI initiatives and projects! I believe in leaving things better than you found them, and I truly feel that I did that. Once my contract was fulfilled, I returned to retail (Walmart/Sam's) but also began teaching online for the University of Phoenix, Axia College.

By this time, the number of available post-baccalaureate PharmD programs around the country was diminishing. Not wanting to miss the opportunity to obtain my PharmD, I applied for the Working People's PharmD program offered by the University of Florida. The GI Bill made this dream possible. This intense 3-year program was challenging but worth it. Dr. JoAnn Gibbs (of Byrd Regional Hospital) was also a tremendous colleague and mentor who made much of my required training/course work possible. I was elated to receive the "Outstanding PharmD Graduate" award of my class! This was an incredible honor as there were pharmacists all over the country who were a valuable and impressive part of my class.

Julie Breithaupt, PharmD, MBA

Although the majority of my practice experience is in retail pharmacy, I also enjoyed a few years as an adjunct faculty for LSU-A, teaching both in the classroom/lab and online. Around 2012, I helped open an independent pharmacy in Deville, then later spent more than 10 years with RPMC as the Pharmacy Manager of the hospital-owned employee pharmacy, Red River Pharmacy. Unfortunately, it closed at the end of 2023. Currently, I am working full-time at Fusion Care Pharmacy (long-term care) as well as Walmart Neighborhood Pharmacy (retail) part-time on the weekends.

I was honored to receive the Meritorious Achievement Award from the ULM COP in 2016. I am a proud alumna. I have had an amazing professional career and have been so blessed to be part of the pharmacy family in Louisiana.

Advice for those looking to a career in pharmacy: I would encourage students to keep an open mind about various practice settings. Your clinical training and knowledge will provide you with opportunities that you've yet to imagine! Strive for work-life balance, with an emphasis on your faith, while you're in school and continue to do so through your career. Meanwhile, continue to network and become involved in organized pharmacy organizations. Engage in financial planning and seek professional advice as needed. Volunteer your time and resources, when possible.

Cherish your loved ones, friends, and colleagues. Also remember that in this profession, you must always continue to learn! Keeping up your knowledge and skills will allow for greater control over your professional destiny.

Be an advocate for your patients and remember to show your patients and co-workers grace. It's not always known what they may be dealing with, and you may be the one person that can completely change their day and/or life!

Hobbies: My hobbies include pharmacy as well. It has been a pleasure to speak at career day to students at various high schools; I'm always excited to let them know that pharmacy isn't "just putting pills in a bottle."

I've also enjoyed speaking to various classes of pharmacy students over the years, sharing my experiences (as a patient and a pharmacist) and treating them to pizza! I've had the honor of serving on the ULM COP Dean's Advisory Council during the tenure of several Deans. I'm also a member of the Dufilho Society within the COP and a life member of ULM Alumni Association.

The Louisiana Pharmacists Association (LPA) has also been a big part of my life, and I am proud to have served in every elected office! I encourage EVERY PHARMACIST to be a member and active participant in the organization that represents you and our profession!

I do have some non-pharmacy hobbies, such as crafting/making handmade cards, which are donated to various organizations. I also enjoy playing the viola in my church orchestra, where my husband plays the saxophone. I find that my worship experience has been heightened when I'm submersed in the music (even if I'm only making a joyful noise!)

Volunteerism is key, as it gives a different perspective and a heart of gratitude. I've volunteered for the Free Pharmacy in Alexandria as well as for the Central Louisiana Food Bank and have served on the Board of Directors for Montessori Educational Center. Being an active part of my church has provided opportunities to serve in various areas. I've also enjoyed supporting Grace Christian School's missions by collecting backpacks filled with toiletries and sundries and donated to the homeless (mainly veterans) in South Louisiana. Joining my husband on "Pilots for Patients" flights, whenever possible, provides another opportunity to serve others. We have teamed up for other missions too, including transporting medicines and supplies when major flooding occurred in Texas. Serving others truly allows our hearts to be filled with gratitude and thanksgiving.

Anything else you wish to share: I hope that you find some value in the highlights of my life story. The happy ending includes that I'm still happily married, my daughter graduated and became a Chemical Engineer who works and lives locally, and my precious mom (Helen Juliet Rodemacher) is still alive and well at 88! Thank you for the opportunity to share my story.

DEAN'S MESSAGE

Dr. Gina Craft
Interim Dean, ULM College of Pharmacy

I am truly honored to serve as Interim Dean for the ULM College of Pharmacy. ULM/NLU has been an integral part of my life for nearly 40 years. I still remember my first visit to PREP as a 17-year-old and how I fell in love with the bayou and the beauty of this campus. Since then, I've had the privilege of experiencing ULM as a student, alumna, faculty member, administrator, and, most recently, as the parent of a graduate.

My roots here run deep, and I want nothing more than to see ULM and our College thrive. My leadership style is grounded in curiosity and listening and, in keeping this in mind, I look forward to hearing feedback from you, our alumni, on ways we can work together to ensure continued growth and success for our alma mater.

August has been an exciting month, and we recently welcomed our new P1 class to campus. Their arrival brings fresh energy to our halls and reminds us of the strong foundation laid by our alumni and the legacy that they will forever be a part of.

It's important to me that I represent each of you with integrity, respect, and a shared sense of purpose. Together, we'll work to ensure the College of Pharmacy remains a source of strength for ULM and a leader in our state. I'm also excited to work alongside President Castille and Provost McEacharn. Their energy, vision, and enthusiasm these past two months have been inspiring, and I look forward to what the future holds. I know change can feel unsettling, but I believe this is a moment of great opportunity for ULM and our College.

Thank you again for your support and for the privilege of serving this extraordinary community.

With warm regards,

Gina Craft

COLLEGE OF PHARMACY CELEBRATES 69 YEARS

On August 11, 1956, the Louisiana Board of Education approved the addition of a school of pharmacy for Northeast Louisiana State College to address the need for pharmacists in the state.

The first class of pharmacists enrolled in 1956, graduating in 1959.

In 1971, Northeast Louisiana University opened Sugar Hall as a new home to the pharmacy school, where it was housed for the next 34 years. In 2005, the University of Louisiana Monroe moved the College of Pharmacy into its current home on Bienville Drive.

Make plans to celebrate 70 years with us in the Fall of 2026!

New Tailgate Spot for this year's Homecoming

The College of Pharmacy will have a slightly different tailgate location for Homecoming this year. If you have tailgated with us the past couple of years, it was located INSIDE the fence leading to the baseball field. This year, we will be just a few feet over at the corner of the RV Grove and the ACE Lot, OUTSIDE of the fence but still near the baseball field.

If you are parking in the ACE lot you can't miss us!

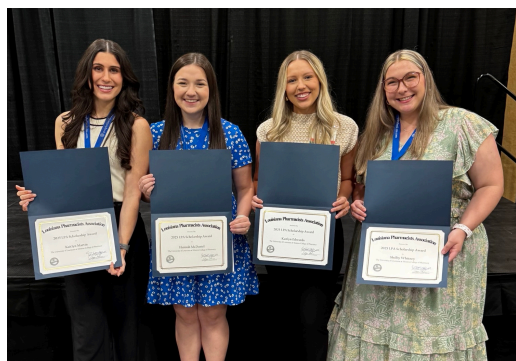

Look for the College of Pharmacy tents!

Tailgate spot noted with red star on the map.

LPA 2025 Annual Convention

The Louisiana Pharmacists Association (LPA) Annual Convention and Trade Show was held July 10-12 at the Natchez Grand Hotel and Convention Center in Natchez, MS.

Nearly 100 ULM/NLU Pharmacy alumni and current pharmacy students attended the alumni reception on Friday, July 11. It was a great time of fellowship and pharmacy fun.

College of Pharmacy Announces Inaugural Hall of Fame Inductees

The ULM College of Pharmacy would like to announce and congratulate the 2025 inductees of the Inaugural College of Pharmacy (COP) Hall of Fame. This year's honorees are the late Carolyn O. Maggio, Mr. Marty McKay, and Mrs. Peggy Van.

Carolyn O. Maggio
Pharmacy Class of 1963

Marty R. McKay
Pharmacy Class of 1974

Peggy Van

Sugar Hall renovations underway

The University of Louisiana Monroe is one step closer to the complete renovation of Sugar Hall, which houses several health science programs, thanks to the support of the Louisiana State Legislature.

Going into the 2025 regular legislative session, ULM requested $14 million, in addition to the $16.7 million received last year, in capital outlay funding to finish the renovation of Sugar Hall. However, the total project cost was reduced to $25.7 million leaving only $9 million needed, which the legislature approved. The anticipated completion of the renovation is scheduled for summer 2026.

“Sugar Hall has been an important training ground for many of our health science programs, but it was in dire need of renovation in order to maintain our standards of instruction and the building’s overall functionality,” said ULM President Carrie L. Castille. “We are grateful to our legislative delegation as well as the entire state legislature for supporting our institutional mission as we continue to meet the needs of the healthcare workforce.”

Sugar Hall, named after Leon Sugar, a prominent Monroe businessman, opened in 1971 as the home of ULM’s College of Pharmacy, which is still today the only publicly supported pharmacy school in the state.

Fitted with classrooms, laboratories, specialized equipment, and student areas, Sugar Hall has accommodated students and faculty since that time. Since the College of Pharmacy’s move to the Bienville Campus in the mid-2000s, Sugar Hall has housed other health science programs such as medical lab science, health studies, and speech-language pathology.

The renovated Sugar Hall will accommodate occupational therapy, medical laboratory science, speech-language pathology, dental hygiene, labs for toxicology and radiologic technology, as well as community clinics for physical and occupational therapy, speech-language pathology, and dental hygiene. It will also house the office of the Dean of the College of Health Sciences.

“Institutional fiscal health depends on the availability and allocation of resources, and we are therefore deeply grateful for the support we have received from the state this year,” said Dr. Bill Graves, Vice President for Business Affairs.

The Bowl of Hygieia that adorned the side of Sugar Hall since it was built in the early 1970’s, was recently removed to make way for building renovations.

PHARMACY NEWS

College of Pharmacy receives $2 million from state legislature.

The University of Louisiana Monroe's College of Pharmacy (COP) received $2 million in supplemental funding from the state legislature during the 2025 regular legislative session.

A supplemental appropriations bill (HB 460) included the funding, which was signed into law by Governor Jeff Landry on June 23, 2025. The supplemental funding will go toward the operations of the COP.

"We are so grateful for the investment the state has made in our College of Pharmacy, which has graduated pharmacists for nearly 70 years," said Dr. Glenn Anderson, Dean of the ULM College of Pharmacy. "The cost of running a pharmacy education program is high, and we cannot understate the importance of funding such as this to ensure that we have efficient means of operating our programs at the very highest level."

ULM's COP is Louisiana's College of Pharmacy – the only publicly supported center for pharmacy education and research in the state. The College is bustling today with students, faculty, research, and service activities, and has shaped the careers and lives of many students.

Nick LeBas, a third-generation pharmacist who owns Evangeline Drug Store in Ville Platte, La., is one example of how ULM's COP led to success in the workforce.

"Me, my wife Nicole, along with my father, brother, and sister all chose pharmacy as our profession," said LeBas. "We could not have accomplished all that we have, served all the people we have, without the educational support of ULM. The College of Pharmacy, in particular, has a special place in our shared family profession."

ULM President Dr. Carrie L. Castille expressed her gratitude to the legislature for the funding.

"Our business enterprise is all about the educational outcomes of our students and meeting the workforce needs of our region and state," said Castille. "This funding allows us to invest directly in our College of Pharmacy so that we can continue to produce the finest pharmacists as well as bolster our cutting-edge research in the areas of pharmaceutical and toxicological sciences. We appreciate the legislature for recognizing the importance of our pharmacy education."

ULM HERO continues live-saving training

In the past couple of months, the ULM HERO team has had the opportunity to train various groups on harm reduction and opioid overdose reversal tools. These groups include the Kenner Police Department, the Monroe Police Department, The New Orleans Mission homeless shelter, the New Orleans Police Department, the Jackson Parish Sheriff's Department, and a group of ULM Resident Advisors (RAs).

ULM HERO completed four training sessions with the Kenner Police Department in July.

ULM HERO attended the Community Health & Wellness Expo at the Monroe Civic Center on August 4.

PHARMACY NEWS

College of Pharmacy welcomes the Class of 2029.

On Saturday, August 16, 2025, the ULM College of Pharmacy welcomed the new P1 class during the P1 White Coat Ceremony at Brown Auditorium. Fifty-six students received their white coats, with seven of these students coming to us as legacy students, meaning they have a close family member who also graduated from the ULM (or NLU) pharmacy program. Eleven members of the incoming class participated in the COP Provisional Entry Program and five were members of ULM's Future Pharmacists Club.

After the ceremony, Kappa Epsilon hosted the College of Pharmacy Family Day, for the incoming class and their families. Families had the opportunity to tour the pharmacy building, meet some of the pharmacy faculty and staff, enjoy breakfast, and get to know other Warhawk pharmacy families.

Dr. Matthaïolampakis selected for AACP Leadership Fellows Program

Dr. George Matthaïolampakis was selected, with 35 other aspiring leaders, for the American Association of Colleges of Pharmacy (AACP) Academic Leadership Fellows Program (ALFP).

The ALFP goal is to develop and support leaders in the Academy that contribute to the advancement of pharmacy education, higher education, and the pharmacy profession. The program provides an opportunity for Fellows to expand networking relationships with peers and colleagues in other institutions, as well as within their own college and university. The ALFP curriculum is reviewed annually to ensure content is contemporary and appropriate to the programs leadership objectives.

Dr. Matthaïolampakis is Associate Professor and Graduate Program Coordinator at the ULM College of Pharmacy and is one of several ULM College of Pharmacy faculty to receive this honor over the past few years.
